CLP Power Community Programme Serves up Free Dim Sum Breakfasts to 30,000 Elderly People

CLP Power Hong Kong Limited (CLP Power) is treating tens of thousands of elderly people to free dim sum breakfasts in restaurants across the territory in an Elderly Yum Cha community programme run in partnership with 14 District Councils in Kowloon, the New Territories and the Islands, four major catering associations and non-governmental organisations (NGOs). This also enables elders in need to expand their social network.

A launch ceremony for the programme, which will see 120,000 breakfast coupons distributed to around 30,000 elderly people, was held today and was officiated by Financial Secretary Mr John Tsang and CLP Power Managing Director Mr Paul Poon.

Speaking at the ceremony, Mr Poon said: “Our senior citizens have contributed a lot to the society, they are our treasures. CLP Power has committed to organising programmes to serve the elderly with love and care. This programme is one of the signature programmes of the year. Hong Kong has a growing elderly population and there are more and more senior citizens who need the care and support of the community. Yum cha is popular among the elderly, this programme features Hong Kong’s unique yum cha culture for elderly people to enjoy free dim sum breakfasts.”

Financial Secretary Mr Tsang said: “The Hong Kong government has devoted more resources to services for the elderly over the years and put in place policies and services to benefit the elderly such as the Elder Academy Scheme and the Government Public Transport Fare Concession Scheme for the Elderly and Eligible Persons with Disabilities. These schemes are aimed at promoting active ageing. This Elderly Yum Cha programme is another excellent way to extend warmth to the elderly and to build a more inclusive society.”

The programme is supported by members of 14 District Councils from Kowloon, the New Territories and the Islands, NGOs and four major catering associations – the Association of Restaurant Managers, the Association for Hong Kong Catering Services Management Limited, the Hong Kong Federation of Restaurants & Related Trades, and the Institution of Dining Art. Mr Poon appreciated all the support as well as the dedicated coordination of the participating restaurants.

Breakfast coupons will be distributed to elderly people aged 65 or above holding senior citizen cards, and priority will be given to single and couple elders in need. Beneficiaries of the programme will be nominated by District Council members or NGOs. They will need to present their coupons and senior citizen cards to choose from a range of 15 dim sum dishes and a pot of tea. The restaurants’ usual 10% service charge and tea charge will be waived. Each beneficiary will receive four coupons and can enjoy dim sum in any one of more than 160 participating restaurants on weekdays before 11am, from 1 June to 31 August 2015. It is expected that the programme will benefit around 30,000 elders. A HK$3 million fund provided by CLP shareholders has been set aside for the programme. (Please refer to the appendix for full details).

Caring for the community is one of the core values of CLP Power. The utility company recently launched Power Your Love, a world-first programme which encourages customers to save energy and transfer the units of electricity they save to help people in need. In another significant community project, low-income families and unemployed people in Sham Shui Po have since 2011 enjoyed nutritious evening meals at a nominal cost through the CLP Hotmeal Canteen service. The service was expanded last year to provide nutritious breakfasts, lunches and dinners at nominal rates to underprivileged elderly people and families in Kwai Tsing and Kwun Tong.
