CLP Power Delivers Mid-Autumn Festival Cheer and Green Tips to over 200 Elderly Guests

CLP Power Hong Kong Limited (CLP Power) today hosted a Mid-Autumn Festival celebration in partnership with Sik Sik Yuen for more than 200 elderly people from the Sham Shui Po and Kwun Tong districts as part of the company's Sharing the Festive Joy programme.

CLP Power Managing Director Mr Chiang Tung-keung, Secretary for Food and Health Professor Sophia Chan, Sik Sik Yuen Chairman Dr Chan Tung, CLP management, and a team of some 40 CLP volunteers joined elderly guests for a delicious lunch followed by singing and dancing performances. The officiating hosts made eco-friendly lanterns for guests to symbolise seasonal blessings, while CLP volunteers delivered energy saving tips to promote the smarter use of electricity at home.

Mr Chiang said: "CLP's community programmes not only express our love and care for the underprivileged, but also incorporate important messages about energy efficiency and safety. We work with non-governmental organisations to help elderly people in need improve the electrical safety of their homes and share useful tips with them on energy saving."

Professor Chan thanked CLP Power for organising community programmes and voluntary services for the senior citizens. She said, "The government has all along attached importance to the health and needs of the elderly and put in place policies and measures for the aged. We hope that more organisations will offer community activities, just like this banquet today, to bring warmth and care to the elderly people and to encourage them to go out and expand their social networks."

CLP Power has launched a wide range of community projects in recent years, identifying social needs and devising tailor-made community programmes to support the underprivileged. The Sharing the Festive Joy programme was launched in 2014 and CLP Power has teamed up with a variety of community partners to celebrate festivals with a total of nearly 2,900 elderly people. This year's programme is an accredited event celebrating the 20th anniversary of the establishment of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region.
