CLP Supports InnerGlow 2023 Light Show in Tai Kwun to Illuminate a Prosperous Year ahead for Hong Kong

CLP Holdings Limited (CLP) is proud to be supporting InnerGlow 2023, a spectacular and innovative light show at the Tai Kwun Parade Ground, during the Chinese New Year as the Principal Sponsor. The show organised by the Tai Kwun uses 3D mapping and new digital techniques to project a story about Hong Kong's heritage onto the facade of the historic building in Tai Kwun.

Secretary for Culture, Sports and Tourism The Honourable Kevin Yeung, CLP Power Hong Kong Limited Chairman and CLP Holdings Limited Non-executive Director Mrs Betty Yuen, and The Hong Kong Jockey Club Chief Executive Officer Mr Winfried Engelbrecht-Bresges officiated at an opening ceremony for InnerGlow on 25 January marking the start of the 16-day visual extravaganza free for the public to enjoy six times every evening from today until 12 February (except 30 January and 6 February).

Speaking at the ceremony, Mrs Yuen said, "CLP prides itself as the energy partner of Hong Kong. For 122 years, we have been providing a reliable electricity supply, lighting up the city just like InnerGlow lights up our night sky. We are grateful that Tai Kwun is bringing this project back after a successful first edition, and this time coinciding with the Chinese New Year. InnerGlow sees the collaboration and exchange between overseas experts and local artists which exemplifies the core strength of Hong Kong as an international metropolis. We hope the light show will inject vitality and hope for the city's great economic recovery in the Year of the Rabbit."

Mr Kevin Yeung praised CLP and the Tai Kwun for bringing the light show to the community. "Both CLP and the Tai Kwun are staunch supporters of local arts and their development," he said. "This partnership is in harmony with the Government's mission to provide opportunities for people with potential to develop their artistic talents, promote a wider participation in culture and arts, and encourage artistic creation and innovation."

InnerGlow is created by the project's Creative Partner The Electric Canvas in collaboration with local artists.
