CLP Power Signs Memorandums Supporting and Participating in the Northern Metropolis Development and Provides Stable, Reliable Power Supply in New Development Areas

CLP Power Hong Kong Limited (CLP Power) joined the Enterprise Participation in Northern Metropolis Development Event held by the HKSAR Government today (29 November), pledging its full support and participation in the Northern Metropolis Development.

Serving Hong Kong for over 120 years, CLP Power is committed to providing a stable and reliable power supply for more than six million people living in Kowloon, New Territories and on most of the outlying islands, supporting the city's economic and social development. To meet the innovation and technology, industrial and commercial, as well as housing developments in the Northern Metropolis, CLP Power has reserved sufficient capacity in its power system to meet the electricity needs of data centre and supercomputing centre development in San Tin Technopole and Sandy Ridge.

CLP Power Managing Director Mr Joseph Law said, "CLP Power is committed to providing a timely, reliable and low-carbon electricity supply for new development areas. We will take forward planned power supply works based on the pace of Northern Metropolis Development and its additional power consumption needs, thereby demonstrating our full support for the mega development."

CLP Power will continue to leverage its power expertise and coordinate with various stakeholders including government bureaux and departments to implement the required power grid expansion plans, contributing to the development of Northern Metropolis.
