Assistance for People in Need

CLP Power will allocate HK$55 million to a number of programmes to help disadvantaged households, including the continuation of the Power Connect programme which provides electricity subsidies to people in need while encouraging residential customers to save energy year-round.

1. Power Connect Programme

   - In partnership with non-Governmental organisations, the Power Connect Programme will in 2020 provide electricity subsidies of HK$500 each for 30,000 households including elderly people, low-income families, and disabled people.

   - All residential customers can register for participating in Power Connect Programme to save energy throughout the year. The programme gives them the opportunity to earn Eco Points towards a wide range of rewards by saving energy compared with the same period in the previous year.

2. "Let's Eat and Cheers" Programme

   - CLP Power will direct HK$20 million for a four-month restaurant coupons programme called "Let's Eat and Cheers" from January 2020, organised in partnership with four major catering associations by providing restaurant coupons to people in need to show care for the community, help revitalising the catering industry and drive economic activity in Hong Kong. Restaurants throughout the CLP Power supply area will be invited to join the programme. Complimentary restaurant coupons will be distributed through non-Governmental organisations to 100,000 disadvantaged households, including elderly people, low-income families, and tenants of sub-divided units. Each household will receive four HK$50 coupons to use in participating restaurants.

3. Scholarships for Disadvantaged Students in Vocational and Professional Education and Training Institutions

    - CLP Power will set aside HK$10 million to award scholarships to disadvantaged students in Vocational and Professional Education and Training institutions to enhance the students' education and career prospects. Full details of the scholarships will be announced in due course.
