Statement Regarding Recruitment of Welders by a Contractor

According to our understanding, the welders being recruited by our contractor company are to work for the construction of the additional gas-fired generation unit at the Black Point Power Station of CLP Power Hong Kong Limited (CLP Power). As the construction of the generation unit's boiler which is of the latest technology requires special welding skills, it is required that welders equipped with the relevant qualifications and technical skills are employed to carry out the work concerned.

It has always been the company's policy in CLP Power that local workers are given the priority in relation to employment of workers.

Moreover, CLP Power will provide sufficient training for all workers, including contractor workers, so as to ensure that they can effectively carry out their work and in a safe manner.
