CLP Brings Tuen Ng Festival Joy to More than 200 Elderly People and Families in Need

CLP Power Hong Kong Limited (CLP Power) today hosted a Tuen Ng Festival celebration in partnership with The Salvation Army for more than 200 elderly people and families in need from Tai Po, Tai Wo Hau, Wong Tai Sin, Sham Shui Po, and To Kwa Wan as part of the company's Sharing the Festive Joy programme.

CLP Power Managing Director Mr TK Chiang, Under Secretary for Home Affairs Mr Jack Chan, and The Salvation Army Hong Kong and Macau Officer Commanding Lieutenant Colonel Ian Swan celebrated the festival with CLP volunteers and management. Guests were served vegetarian rice dumplings and performed simple Tai Chi exercises to encourage healthy living. Volunteers also shared energy saving tips with guests to encourage the smarter use of electricity at home.

CLP Power's Sharing the Festive Joy programme is now in its fifth year and is an accredited programme of the 20th anniversary celebrations of the Volunteer Movement promoted by the Social Welfare Department. Mr Chiang said: "CLP Power has been working with a variety of community partners over the years and has celebrated festivals and promoted energy saving to elderly people and underprivileged households."

He said the company was firmly committed to supporting the Government's environmental policy and had been striving to minimise the impact of the operations on the environment and encourage the community to embrace low-carbon lifestyles by promoting conservation and the development of renewable energy.

Under Secretary for Home Affairs Mr Jack Chan praised CLP Power for its commitment to community programmes for people in need. "Today's event demonstrates CLP Power's corporate social responsibility and its dedication in promoting volunteerism among its employees. I am impressed by the company's community programmes which always contain messages of energy saving and conservation."

CLP Power has launched a wide range of community projects in recent years, identifying social needs and devising tailor-made programmes to support the underprivileged. Since the launch of the Sharing the Festive Joy programme in 2014, CLP Power has hosted luncheons for more than 3,300 people in need. CLP Power continues to run its popular Power Your Love programme, an initiative that encourages customers to save energy and contribute to the well-being of society by transferring units of electricity saved to help the underprivileged, including elderly people and tenants of sub-divided flats.
